Viridor serco recycle for Milton Keynes MILTON KEYNES COUNCIL

THE scene is set and the waiting is finally over – the Rugby World Cup 2015 and its star-studded professional players have begun arriving in Milton Keynes.

Samoan players started training at Woughton Pavilion yesterday and their counterparts from Fiji are set to arrive at the beginning of next week.

And tomorrow Canada will take on France in the first of three group games being staged at stadiummk – confirming MK as an international sporting city with world class facilities.

The Samoan players – who are staying at the DoubleTree by Hilton at the stadium – have been exploring the city since they arrived. They have been spotted playing basketball at Bletchley Leisure Centre and signing autographs for fans at the stadium.

Their game on Saturday against Japan is hotly anticipated after the Cherry Blossoms caused the biggest upset of the tournament so far when they beat South Africa – one of the favourites to win – in their opening game.

Tusi Pisi, Samoa's fly-half, told MK NEWS: "The stadium looks amazing and we are looking forward to getting out there and getting a result."

A look to the future: Top right, Newton Leys, above, Fairfield and, below, Whitehouse. The new primary schools are expected to be open to pupils in September next year

Do you like how the new schools will look? letters@mk-news.co.uk

Work has begun on three new schools

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

ARTIST impressions have been released this week of how three of the city's new primary schools will look when they are built as part of a multi-million pound programme.

Contractor Willmott Dixon is now on the sites of the schools – Newton Leys, Fairfield and Whitehouse – all of which are set to open ready for the new intake of pupils in September 2016.

The schools mark the first phase of a £160million programme that will see the creation of seven new schools, as well as the expansion of an additional 12 existing schools by 2018.

In total, it will deliver 10,000 much-needed new school places.

Peter Owen, managing director at Willmott Dixon, said: "Demand for school places throughout the country is starting to outstrip supply, so Milton Keynes is by no means unique in implementing a significant schools expansion programme.

"These first three schools will deliver nearly 2,000 additional primary places between them, helping to ensure that, ultimately, every child in the Milton Keynes area is provided with a good local school place."

Milton Keynes Council leader Councillor Pete Marland added: "I'm delighted that this ambitious school development programme is progressing well.

"We want to ensure that all children living in Milton Keynes can access a good local school place and I am proud that our team are working collaboratively with schools and Willmott Dixon in order to make that a reality."

Willmott Dixon is working with architectural firms Synergie (Newton Leys), ADP in collaboration with educationalists The Learning Crowd and a client team including Hewitt Freeborn Associates to deliver the scheme.

Pensioner's cash taken by cleaner

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A CLEANER has been found guilty of stealing money from a 93-year-old man at Shenley Wood Retirement Village.

Sydney Wilson trusted Susan Cuffy, 64, with a key to his apartment, but suspected she was stealing from him when £60 went missing from his room on October 8.

The suspicious pensioner then took down the serial numbers of the remaining notes to see if his fears were correct.

On October 15 Mr Wilson discovered another £60 had gone and called the police.

Cuffy, from Mapperley Drive, Northampton, was arrested after the matching notes were found in her bag.

She pleaded not guilty on December 2 to stealing £60 on two occasions.

At the trial on Thursday at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court she said: "I haven't worked since the allegations because I thought I was doing good for older people."

When asked by prosecutor Julian Vickery, Cuffy could not say why the serial numbers matched on the notes.

Michael Cartwright, defending, claimed a bank statement showed £60 being drawn out of Cuffy's account on October 15.

However, magistrates concluded Cuffy was guilty of theft on October 15, but she was cleared of the other charge due to a lack of evidence from Mr Wilson, who has since died.

The court found there was intent to 'permanently deprive' Mr Wilson of his money. Cuffy is due to be sentenced on October 8 at the same court.

A costly parking plan

NO MATTER what porcine stories appear in the media, you can guarantee that Labour make a pig's ear of anything it touches.

Take this latest fiasco over car parking in Milton Keynes ('Extra Car Parking Is Lined Up', MK NEWS, September 23).

After years of mismanaging parking policy, Labour is intending to increase the number of car parking spaces in the city centre. How is it going to do it? By making parking spaces even narrower. Whaaaat?

Labour admits that redrawing the lines will cost the public purse £300,000. But there will be other costs. For instance, how much will car owners have to pay to repair the dents or scratches from knocks caused by drivers exiting cars parked too close to their neighbours? Or what about shunts caused by drivers negotiating the narrow spaces?

There is a saying – bad planning on your part does not constitute an emergency on my part. Under this Labour maladministration we already have bad planning. Let us hope we don't have an emergency before we get a chance to vote them out next May.

We're proud to protest

WHY does the nameless person who attacks Xplain for protesting against intu believe that all change is change for the better? And why assume that all we do is protest? That is only the fun part!

In fact, Xplain supporters spend hours trawling through planning applications and public consultations in order to avoid any more problematic developments such as The Hub.

We also hold MK Council to account. It was Xplain that exposed the scandal of Secklow Gate Bridge, stood shoulder to shoulder with market traders over Primark and publicised the council's secretive 'parks for cash' policy earlier this year. When people were asking what the referendum on the CMK Business Neighbourhood Plan was all about in May, Xplain mobilised a small army of volunteers. People walked miles delivering 35,000 leaflets and spent hours on social media answering questions.

Instead of complaining about reading reports in MK NEWS the letter writer should be glad that we have local journalists willing to inform the public 'without fear or favour'.

Xplain believes we can only build a better future through informed debate, joined-up thinking and positive action so we will continue to challenge the status quo and wave our placards with pride.

Linda Inoki
Chairman of Xplain

Shocked by comment

I WAS saddened to read the letter from Deepak Aggarwal (MK NEWS, September 16) regarding giving refugees sanctuary.

His comment that people running from rape, torture and murder are somehow 'benefits tourists' is truly shocking. Has he not seen in the news the terrible things that are happening to these people in their own countries? Few people choose to leave their homes willingly – they are running away from war and persecution.

Even if we are going to ignore completely the humanitarian and compassionate part of this terrible situation, our history shows that immigration over the years has been good for Britain. Deepak is correct that it will cost something to settle these refugees at first, but the long term economic benefits will outweigh the money spent.

His column written exclusively for MK NEWS

I'VE long been a connoisseur of fine foods. And so when I discovered burger chain Five Guys had picked MK for one of its few UK locations, I had to treat the family to an All American take away.

With its prominent location at Xscape, it's hard to miss the trademark Five Guys logo.

Stepping into the restaurant for the first time, the first thing that struck me was that it lacks the charm of a 50s diner and adopts a more minimalist approach with its stark lighting and loud music.

The menu choice is pretty restricted, but while a Five Guys burger isn't cheap – don't expect much change from a fiver for a small one or £8 for a standard – the list of toppings, which are all included in the price, is pretty impressive.

The chain is famous for its generous serving of fries and a large portion was plenty for the three of us.

I tried the strawberry milkshake which, at more than £4 a time, needed to be something pretty special. It was just okay and, if I'm honest, had a slight 'chemical' taste to it.

The bun was fresh, the burger okay, chips adequate and the shake so-so.

The most memorable thing was the bill – £25 plus for three small burgers, large chips and a milkshake.

By contrast, friends treated me to a meal at The Swan, Woughton on the Green, on Saturday night. This pub has been in Milton Keynes since before time began. I ordered the 9oz rump steak. It was tender and delicious – the best steak I've had in Milton Keynes for a long time.

Five Guys or The Swan? I know where I'll be returning the next time I fancy a bite to eat.

Crash cuts power to homes

Smashed: The damaged electricity pole in Drayton Road

MORE than 500 homes were left without power on Thursday when a car crashed into an electricity pole.

Firefighters were called to the scene in Drayton Road, near the junction with Brookfield Road, in Newton Longville at 8.13am.

The male driver was uninjured in the crash and was out of the car by the time firefighters arrived.

Western Power confirmed that power was restored to the majority of homes within 40 minutes, but 25 homes in Drayton Road and Woodfield Road remained without electricity until the afternoon.

Police cordoned off the area and a replacement pole was installed that restored power to all of the homes by 3.30pm.

Dan Callaghan, a nearby resident in Croft Lane, spoke to MK NEWS and described the scene following the crash.

He said: "I started my drive to work and noticed a couple of cars with their hazards on. That's when I spotted the car in the middle of the road and it was pretty much totalled.

"People come flying around that corner and it is only a matter of time before someone gets hurt."

'Misadventure' ruling on hikers

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AFTER two years waiting for reports from French authorities, the full inquest into the deaths of a dad and his 12-year-old son was finally held at Milton Keynes Coroner's Court on Friday.

It is believed Charlie Saunders fell 980ft while hiking in Chamonix Valley, near Mont Blanc in the French Alps, with his father Peter, 48, on March 18, 2013.

Mr Saunders made an emergency call but contact was lost until their bodies were found 150ft apart on the glacier the next morning.

As MK NEWS has previously reported, Charlie was a great athlete and a much-loved member of Marshall Milton Keynes Athletic Club.

The family and friends of Mr Saunders and Charlie attended the full inquest held by assistant coroner Elizabeth Grey.

After hearing from Steven Ellsworth, a friend of Mr Saunders since university, and Mr Saunders' wife and Charlie's mother Sandra, who both explained how he had planned the route and would never take risks, Mrs Grey concluded: "Peter and Charlie died as a result of misadventure."

She added: "Peter was very experienced and had explored the region well. He wasn't anticipating hiking the La Jonction route and planned a different lower route.

"It was a beautiful sunny day and it was clear from where they were found they had made better progress than they thought and had ended up in an area that was dangerous."

Drugs clinic plans to move

A DRUGS and alcohol support service is hoping to move into the city centre as its current premises will be demolished.

Compass UK provides the service for MK Council from Cripps Lodge in Netherfield.

But the building is part of an area planned for regeneration and Compass will have to move out by January 2016.

It has now submitted a 'change of use' planning application to the council to move into a vacant office block in Upper Fifth Street.

A Compass spokesman told MK NEWS it hoped the new clinic would be 'modern and accessible to service users'.

Top spot for vehicle crime

BLETCHLEY has been revealed as the area with the most reports of vehicle crime in the city for the month of July.

An online map at www.police.uk lists all crimes in Milton Keynes and displays where the 167 reports of vehicle crime took place.

Bletchley came first with 30 reported incidents, ahead of second placed Newport Pagnell with 20 reports.

Eight of the reports came from Far Bletchley, with a further six coming from West Bletchley.

Sneak peek inside the Fanzone

AFTER months of preparation, The Park's Trust's Fanzone for the Rugby World Cup is nearly ready to open and we took a look inside to see what it's like.

The Fanzone opens tomorrow at 11.30am and closes after the USA v Japan game on Sunday, October 11.

City is ready for world cup fever

BY PHILIP MCELENEY
editor@mk-news.co.uk

STADIUMMK has been transformed ahead of the Rugby World Cup, with the finishing touches being put in place on the same day as the tournament was officially welcomed to the city.

Large signs reading 'Welcome to the Rugby World Cup' have been put up all around the stadium as the city prepares to play its part in an event of major international sporting significance.

At an official world cup welcoming event at Milton Keynes Theatre, Andrew Cosslett, the chairman of England Rugby 2015 – the organising committee for the tournament – was quick to praise the city's efforts so far.

He said: "When looking at potential host cities, we thought 'can we get the response and the enthusiasm of the local community?' We wanted to be able to be confident that we would get the response from the community.

"We couldn't be happier that we made the choice to be here. The game tomorrow will be immense and the stadium is just going to be awesome."

The world cup is set to bring huge financial benefits to the city, with an extra £54million expected to be piled into the local economy.

Mr Cosslett added: "I cannot say how happy we are to be here. It will be the biggest world cup ever. There have been close to 2.4million tickets sold and four billion people over the course of the tournament will watch on TV.

"It was never our mission to be the biggest – we wanted to be the best."

AFFECTED ROADS:

THE following are the main road closures for Rugby World Cup match days (tomorrow, Saturday and Tuesday):

- Saxon Street between Standing Way and Groveway is fully-closed on match days.
- Marlborough Street between Groveway and stadiummk is closed except for access to Mount Farm businesses – it is the same case for Bond Avenue.
- Saxon Street between Groveway and stadiummk is only open for access to MK1, Odeon and restaurants.

French team to take on Olney veterans

ONE rugby club in Milton Keynes has decided to celebrate the Rugby World Cup by playing old friends from a French rugby side, after the visitors watch their country in action against Canada at stadiummk.

Olney RFC veteran side will be hosting 45 veterans from French side Gujan-Mestras – who they have previously played in France – on Friday evening. The Gujan players will also be visiting the Fanzone and watching a game at stadiummk during their tour.

Ian Bullerwell, who along with his partner Suzanne Clegg, helped organise the tour, said: "After Olney went over to France in 2013, the Gujan boys asked if there was any chance of coming over to play Olney and take in a world cup game.

"It was no problem arranging the game and transport but try getting 45 tickets for a World Cup game!"

The game takes place on Friday at 7pm.

Travellers given life behind bars

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

TWO men who beat a man to death in a field near Nash Park travellers' site in Milton Keynes have been sentenced to life in prison.

Jemma Price, 30, of no fixed address, and Addy McAllister, 34, of Charlesworth Street, Bolsover, Derbyshire, were both found guilty on Thursday following a three-week trial at Luton Crown Court of murdering Adam Fanelli.

Mr Fanelli, 31, from Dunstable, died following a savage beating inflicted on him by the pair on March 17.

His body was discovered with head and facial injuries on a piece of waste land at the rear of the caravan site. He had suffered a total of 159 injuries.

Both men were given life sentences, with Price ordered to serve a minimum of 17 years and McAllister at least 14 years in jail.

In a statement, Mr Fanelli's family said: "There is no justification whatsoever for the brutal and horrific manner in which Adam was killed and taken from us all.

"We have been deprived of a son, partner, nephew and his three little girls have been left without a daddy, one of whom he never even got to see as she was born just before his funeral.

"Adam will never get to watch his daughters grow up and share all of the special moments with them. But we will do everything we can to keep his memory alive.

"No amount of time or punishment will ever compensate for the loss of Adam or for the anguish and heartbreak we continue to endure.

"We are now left to serve our own life sentence and we only wish that the law is changed to mean that those who commit such hideous crimes and who take a life have to serve life.

"We are grateful to those who have done their best to support the family through these most difficult of times."

City near bottom of list for culture

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes is one of the worst towns for culture, a heritage index by the Royal Society for the encouragement of Arts (RSA) has claimed.

Despite boasting a number of live entertainment venues, including The Stables and MK Theatre, and events such as IF: Milton Keynes International Festival and Heritage Open Days, the city ranked 322 out of 325 in the heritage index, behind Luton, Warrington and North Kesteven.

The list was calculated by tallying up different areas' cultural assets and dividing them by its size.

The heritage index took a range of features into account, including nature reserves, heritage open days, blue plaques and designated local foods.

Despite Milton Keynes being home to high levels of heritage activity, the RSA found it operates no sight-seeing tours or visitor centres – contributing to its low ranking.

Ironically, Milton Keynes Council unanimously passed a motion earlier this year to pursue a bid to become European Capital of Culture in 2023.

A huge opportunity: Monica Ferguson

It also opened a new visitor information centre in July.

Monica Ferguson, chief executive of The Stables and artistic director of IF, said: "Milton Keynes has some great cultural facilities and events and as one of the newest and fastest growing cities in the UK we are naturally seeing a huge appetite for more.

"The city's bid for European Capital of Culture is a huge opportunity to bring investment into Milton Keynes to further extend its cultural infrastructure and put it firmly on the map as a cultural destination."

WHAT YOU SAID:

Laura Brown: "Milton Keynes doesn't have much culture. But then again it doesn't have enough history to have the culture yet. Doesn't help it's a commuter town built for purpose.

Sandra Oxley: "It depends on what you define as Milton Keynes. It is so much more than CMK shopping centre; the towns and villages that now form part of MK are steeped in history for those that can step outside their car and bother to look.

Zoom Alison: "For those who believe that we don't have any culture, try Stony Stratford where there's a festival every few weeks, music in the pubs, historical plaques galore – the place is steeped in culture, like the rest of the historic towns and villages that comprise our borough."

Cathy Higgins: "It actually has much more culture and history than we are aware! I've been truly surprised."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

New bid to save lives

ONE engine in each of the five fire stations in Milton Keynes will now carry a defibrillator.

If someone suffers a cardiac arrest, a defibrillator can deliver an electrical current through the chest and shock the heart back into a normal rhythm.

Chief Fire Officer Jason Thelwell said: "We are continuing to find ways to help save lives.

"The defibrillators are further evidence that we will always put the needs of the community first."

Servant's £184k in unpaid wages

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A WOMAN recruited from India to be a domestic servant for a family in Milton Keynes and paid 11p an hour has been awarded almost £184,000 in unpaid wages.

Permila Tirkey, 39, from Bihar – one of India's poorest states – was kept in domestic servitude and forced to work as a cleaner and nanny.

Working 18-hour days, Ms Tirkey was recruited in 2008, a tribunal heard.

The hearing, in Cambridge, was told Ms Tirkey worked for the family for four-and-a-half years, during which time she was on call 24 hours a day, slept on a foam mattress on the floor, was not allowed to contact her family and was prevented from bringing her Bible to the UK and going to church.

The employment tribunal found that Ms Tirkey was kept in domestic servitude and that the conditions and environment in which she was held were 'a clear violation of her dignity'.

Reacting to the judgment Ms Tirkey said: "I want the public to know what happened to me as it must not happen to anyone else.

"The stress and anxiety that this sort of thing creates for a person can destroy them. I have not been able to smile because my life had been destroyed.

"Now I am able to smile again. Now I am free."

Clear up: Peter Arnold and Geoff Parker, left, who have been volunteering for 18 months cleaning up the Railway Walk near Great Linford station

Two taming walk on the wild side

LOVE MK

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A PAIR of volunteers have spent 18 months clearing up and renovating the Railway Walk near Great Linford Railway Station.

Peter Arnold, 73, of Newport Pagnell and Geoff Parker, 74, of Stantonbury are both active members of the national organisation, The Conservation Volunteers (TCV). The two decided to continue the work started by the TCV to regenerate three miles of the railway walk from Newport Pagnell to Wolverton after funding from the group was discontinued in 2013.

Since March, 2014, Geoff and Peter have worked every Tuesday morning – no matter the weather – on vegetation control, hedging, litter clearing and replacing signage.

However, they anticipate several more months of work to clear the entry and exit vistas of the station.

Speaking to MK NEWS, Peter, a retired automotive engineer, said: "It has been very satisfying to bring this project to near completion. I am particularly pleased with the landscaping and grassing of the area opposite the platform. I have a real sense of pride in what has been achieved here as I cycle by several times a week."

Geoff added: "For Peter and I it has been hard physical work that has been great for burning off the calories and improving our cardiovascular fitness."

What you have said about this

Mike Ross: "Well done, great job. I spent most of my youth up and down the railway walk. Nice to see it looking nice."
Hannah Minns: "This is such wonderful news. Well done. We all benefit from your efforts."
Olivia Collins: "These men deserve a medal. Thanks for keeping history alive."
Jane Grisdale: "Well done. It looks great – it lifts your spirits to see this cared for area. Love the signs too."
Marianne Coleman: "Thank you so much. You should feel proud of all your hard work."

Passionate about their business: Carmelo Gristina and his brother Filippo

Go for it, say winners

THE winners of the independent retailer category at the last award ceremony held in March was Giovanni's Downtown Gelato in the centre:mk.

Run by Carmelo Gristina, 25, and his brother Filippo, 29, the gelato, sorbetto and frozen yoghurt stand faced fierce competition from the likes of Willen Hospice and bespoke jewellery store Woolfe before picking up the award.

Speaking to MK NEWS, Carmelo explained what winning a business achievement award has meant for his business.

He said: "Winning the independent retailer award was a great achievement for us as a company.

"We were extremely happy to receive the award and would encourage anyone who is passionate about their business and their product to enter the awards this time around.

"The award has really helped us gain recognition and status in Milton Keynes as a business, despite facing fierce competition – so it's definitely worth entering.

"We worked around the clock to bring Milton Keynes Giovanni's great-tasting flavours, which were and still are enjoyed by many in the city, so the award is a clear testament to our hard work.

"If you believe in your independent business – go for it. What are you waiting for?"

Businesses get chance to shine

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE Milton Keynes Business Achievement Awards will return next year for its third consecutive year – and what's more MK NEWS and OneMK are sponsoring the independent retailer category.

Milton Keynes provides a great opportunity to retail entrepreneurs and established businesses alike – so we are urging you to get involved by entering or nominating your favourite independent retailer, whether that be your local greengrocers, a quirky café or your family butchers.

Philip Smith, chairman of the Milton Keynes Business Leader Partnership which organises the awards, said: "We're delighted to see the return of MKBAA for a third consecutive year.

"With a refined entry process, an engaging and hilarious compère and a few surprises up our sleeve – watch this space.

"It's sure to be a fantastic occasion for the Milton Keynes business community."

Winners will be announced at a ceremony compered by comedienne and actress Debra Stephenson at the DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel at the stadiummk on Thursday, March 10, 2016.

Dr Smith added: "By any standards Milton Keynes Business Achievement Awards 2015 was a great success and MK Business Leaders Partnership is proud to have delivered another great event. However, at the top of our to do list is reaching more businesses and persuading them of the benefits of entering.

"There are thousands of businesses of all kinds within the MK postcode area which have yet to be part of MKBAA. So we are urging them to enter one of the 12 open award categories and have the chance to shine in 2016."

Entries for the 2016 awards are now open and will close on November 30.

Club helps armed services veterans

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A RESIDENT has set up a breakfast club in the city to help veterans relive the camaraderie they used to enjoy while serving in the armed forces.

Held at The Harvester in Fox Milne every Saturday at 9am, the club aims to help veterans regain 'their lost family' and to meet others who can advise, help and guide those who have recently left the services.

Val Dixon from Willen, who worked as a signaller with the Women's Royal Army Corps and helps organise the breakfast club, said: "The club is held on a Saturday morning for those who are current or ex-servicemen or women. It is an opportunity for people to enjoy the camaraderie they used to enjoy while serving – which is something that lots of them need in their life.

"There are no rules to the club and the only money involved is to pay for the breakfast.

"When men and women leave the armed forces, many tend to find that they are quite lonely as isolation was something they never really experienced in the forces considering they were always part of a team.

"The breakfast club provides them with a new circle of comrades and a place where they can go to help them feel like they are not alone.

"It really works because they all have a similar outlook on life, similar sense of humour and in many respects the social life many of the veterans of the breakfast club now enjoy is similar to the days when they served."

All the services are represented at the club – Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines, reservists and regulars.

Any ex-servicemen or women who wish to join the breakfast club should simply turn up at The Harvester on Saturday between 9am and 9.30am.

A helping hand: Val Dixon with her son, Army veteran Peter

Apologies: John Van Weenen, from Olney Aid, who is collecting goods for refugees in Calais

Leaflet 'wasn't meant to upset'

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A FUNDRAISER has apologised to residents who criticised him for using an image of a dead Syrian boy on leaflets distributed to people in the city.

Aiming to encourage donations of clothes for migrants in Calais, Olney Aid worker John Van Weenen added the image of Aylan Kurdi to a flyer to highlight the 'refugee and migration problem facing us all'.

However, residents of Olney questioned why the image of Aylan, whose body was washed up on the shores of Turkey, was used.

One resident said on a Facebook community group: "I am absolutely horrified that in an appeal to the good nature and generosity of the people of Olney you felt the need to include the picture of the dead toddler on the beach.

"Yes, I will help with any appeal for refugees but why you think you need to expose the good people and families of Olney to this image is beyond me."

Speaking to MK NEWS, a saddened Mr Van Weenen said: "Olney Aid is no panacea, but it's a small gesture from our town to show we care.

"I just want to help those who are suffering and living in wretched conditions. I assumed everyone had seen the image of Aylan Kurdi as it was covered nationally and it was this very image that sparked such a response for aid.

"With hindsight, I would not have put Aylan's picture on the leaflet if I had known it would upset a number of people.

"That was never my intention and to those who were affected I apologise, most profusely."

Mr Van Weenen will be travelling to the refugee camp known as The Jungle to distribute clothing and other necessities to those in need on October 12.

WHY YOU SHOULD BE WORRIED IF YOUR BANK NO LONGER OFFERSYOU FINANCIAL ADVICE

We were recently approached by a lady, Susan, on behalf of her mother, Dorothy, who has been left high and dry by her bank, HSBC's, financial advisory arm who no longer offer financial advice!

Dorothy who is aged 83 and lives locally in Milton Keynes has £230K invested in an HSBC discretionary fund management (DFM) service as well as a further £100K invested in another HSBC DFM which is held in a trust for the benefit of her grandchildren.

What is truly shocking is that she recently visited her branch seeking some advice and was told that HSBC no longer offers financial advice for customers!!!! Dorothy is worried and doesn't know where to turn to for advice.

Her daughter Susan lives in the North West of England. When she found out about her mother's dilemma she immediately did a search on Google and found two useful websites one of which was unbiased.co.uk and the other vouchedfor.co.uk. Unbiased.co.uk is a directory of independent financial advisers whereas vouchedfor.co.uk is a testimonials website for professional advisers. She chose us because she wanted a firm of Chartered Financial Planners with aspecialism in investment management and estate planning including Inheritance Tax mitigation. She supplemented her research

Tony Byrne
Financial Planning Director
Wealth And Tax Management

with checking our website at wealthandtax.co.uk focussing on our many client video testimonials.

We recently had our first meeting with Dorothy and her son Brian at our offices with Susan joining the meeting on a Skype video call from her living room in the North West of England. The meeting went very well.

We have been asked to produce a Wealth And Tax Management plan for Dorothy to include our proposals for managing her investments, her grandchildren's trust investments and our strategies for protecting her wealth and reducing her Inheritance Tax liability. She has an estate worth more than £1 million. Needless to say we accepted her invitation!

Dorothy and her family are now reassured and looking forward to receiving their plan with confidence.

Aimee is named top skating star

Skating Stars: From left, Mason Tarbutt, Paige Tarbutt, Aimee Kerry-Haynes, Phoebe Wallace and Amelia Asplen-Taylor were the finalists in the competition

THE Skating Stars competition at Planet Ice, which pitted children who had barely ice-skated before against one another, came to a close on Saturday.

Aimee Kerry-Haynes was selected as the winner. The 10-year-old admitted she did not expect to win and added: "I have learned from doing this that if you work hard at something, you can achieve anything."

Fears thieves could be targeting homes

BY CHRIS KNIGHT
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A FATHER-OF-TWO is anxious serial thieves are targeting his estate after spotting suspicious markings near homes.

The 45-year-old found several silver spray-painted markers by cars and secluded houses in Delius Close, Mendelhson Grove and Schumann Close in Browns Wood on Sunday, September 20.

As previously reported, police are hunting a gang of serial thieves responsible for recent burglaries and car thefts in Browns Wood, Monkston, Old Farm Park and Woughton on the Green.

He said: "I was taking rubbish out from the night before and spotted the mark on our driveway and another two on my street. All of them were bright silver. I took a walk around and saw more markings.

"It is not random – all of these houses and cars are specifically marked with gaps and escape routes highlighted. It looks like somebody is planning ahead and it seems sinister."

PC Fred Ruffle, from Milton Keynes CID, said: "I am delighted that the residents of Browns Wood are so diligent and taking note of suspicious activity in the area.

"However, after looking at these photographs I am confident that they do not relate to the burglaries we are investigating.

"I would encourage members of the public to remain vigilant and to report any suspicious activity they become aware of to the police on 101."

Popularity sees house price rise

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MILTON Keynes is the seventh most expensive of the 32 new towns built since the Second World War, with an average house price of £224,245 – according to estate agents Savills.

But Savills adds new towns still offer relatively affordable accommodation with 'prices on average 12 per cent below the regional urban average'.

Speaking to MK NEWS, Dave Webb, director of Milton Keynes-based Carters Residential, said: "With the number of job opportunities increasing, its prime location for commuters and its popularity with families it's no surprise people have flocked to Milton Keynes causing house prices in the area to rise."

Mr Webb added: "With excellent schools and various attractions such as Xscape and stadiummk, Milton Keynes is not only a prime location for first time buyers, it has also become an increasingly popular place to bring up children."

Homes in Oakgrove Village have risen by as much as £200,000

Earlier this year, housing developer Crest Nicholson launched a new collection of family homes in Oakgrove Village, Middleton, which sold out within weeks.

Susan Young, sales and marketing director at Crest Nicholson Regeneration, said: "Because of the high demand, the prices for the houses at Oakgrove Village have risen very quickly.

"The family properties, for example, were originally on the market for just under £600,000 but now they are ranging between £600,000 and £800,000."

■ Savills says the most expensive new town for homes is Welwyn where prices average at £299,199.

WALK SAFE

Having a ball: Langland Community School students Ryan Cowlard, Chloe Maisiri and Mia Bassett had fun redecorating a 'daunting' underpass in Ashland. They used the Rugby World Cup for inspiration and were helped out by arts company Festive Road and school staff members Sam Shipton and Rosie Martin

Our colourful touch

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

STUDENTS and school staff took time out of the classroom to brighten up a 'daunting' underpass.

Year Six students at Langland Community School and Year Five pupils at Charles Warren Academy in Simpson decorated four underpasses underneath the Ashland roundabout last week.

Using the upcoming Rugby World Cup as a theme, they spent an hour-and-a-half decorating the underpasses with the help of outdoor arts company Festive Road.

The school's sports co-ordinators Sam Shipton and Rosie Martin also guided the children during the project.

Rosie said: "This is somewhere the pupils walk through a lot and it can be quite daunting for some.

"These paintings will make it a bit more welcoming and help them feel safer."

Langland student Ryan Cowlard, 10, said he wouldn't be able to wear his school trousers again after covering them in paint, while head girl Chloe Maisiri, 11, said it was fun to be outside during school time.

And class rep Mia Bassett, 10, added: "It was a bit messy, but it was a good exercise."

Kate Holland, principal of the Charles Warren Academy, added: "It has been a real privilege and leaves a wonderful legacy."

MK NEWS has been raising awareness about underpass and redway safety through our 'Walk Safe' campaign.

As part of the campaign, we will join forces with MK Council to spruce up a city underpass. You can vote for your local underpass to win at www.onemk.co.uk

Blasts from the past: Old photos of Wavendon Primary School

School birthday

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A TEA party is being held to celebrate the 50th birthday of Wavendon Primary School (now St Mary's CoE Primary School).

Former student Councillor David Hopkins and current headteacher Amanda Dicks are inviting anyone who attended, worked, or has been involved with the school throughout the years to the party.

The celebration will mark the anniversary of the school opening in 1965 and will take place on Friday, October 9, between 2pm and 4pm.

Cllr Hopkins, who has also been a governor at the school since 1990, said: "If you were a pupil at the school during this period or perhaps worked at the school or served as a school governor, why not come along to our tea party to relive the mischief you used to get up to."

To register your interest in attending the tea party email Cllr Hopkins at david.hopkins@milton-keynes.gov.uk

Drop zone: Reporter Jessica Duncan took on an epic challenge for MK NEWS' charity of the year by jumping out of a plane

Skydive for Hollie

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

EDGING your way towards the open door of a plane flying at 13,000 feet is completely against all your natural instincts, but then it was a challenge I was prepared to take on for charity.

Having met Helen Carter and her daughter Hollie, from Shenley Brook End, in January, I could see they were both fighters and would never give up on their mission to find a cure for Niemann Pick Type C (NPC).

The rare inherited metabolic condition affects only 100 children in the UK and causes various symptoms ranging from physical disabilities to what has been named Childhood Alzheimer's.

Therefore, jumping out of a plane for The Hope for Hollie Foundation was the least I could do to try and raise awareness of MK NEWS' charity for 2015 and NPC.

The inspiration behind the charity, 10-year-old Hollie, showed her support at Hinton Skydive Centre in Northamptonshire on Sunday, so how could I disappoint her?

Despite feeling incredibly nervous on the 10-minute flight to my skydive, which felt like a lifetime, I thought I could overcome this in aid of the four families in Milton Keynes who battle NPC every day.

The verdict: It is a cliché, but I literally felt like a bird flying in the sky and the sensation was overwhelming. I have raised more than £400, which will go towards grants for affected families.

To sponsor me and see the video and pictures from the skydive visit www.onemk.co.uk

New exhibition: Reporter Jack Ash talking to Jennifer Welchman, granddaughter of Gordon, inset

Spotlight on genius

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

BLETCHLEY Park has launched a new exhibition on codebreaker and mathematician Gordon Welchman.

The display – called Gordon Welchman: Architect of Ultra Intelligence – follows the BBC2 documentary on him that was screened earlier this month.

His granddaughter, Jennifer Welchman, was impressed with the exhibition when she visited on Thursday.

"I think it is wonderful and I never thought I would ever see any sort of exhibit about my grandfather, it is lovely to see," she told MK NEWS.

"It is hard to put into words what I feel when I come to Bletchley Park. This was the site of some of the most exciting days of his life and it was a time that really stood out for him, it's a shame he could never come back and visit while he was alive."

The exhibition includes copies of letters between Welchman and Sir Winston Churchill, personal diaries and props from the film The Imitation Game.

It comes after the BBC2 documentary Bletchley Park: Codebreaking's Forgotten Genius – the beginning of the BBC's Make it Digital season.

James Thirsk, aged 101, from Kent, worked in Hut 6 during the war and was one of the contributors to the documentary.

He said: "The exhibition is splendid and Welchman should have been given more recognition than he received. I keep telling people every time they hear Bletchley they think [Alan] Turing but I always say Turing was not the only pebble on the Bletchley beach."

The exhibition officially opened on Thursday and is set to be on display for a year.

Bright idea generates cash for first winner

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THE first winner of the Citizen Ideas Competition is urging others to apply for the £5,000 grant.

The competition, supported by a new website Our MK, aims to support residents' ideas to improve the city's transport, water, energy use, health and the environment to ensure there is a more sustainable future.

Michael Sheppard, 68, from Bletchley, is part of the Friends of the Earth Youth and Education Network that organises talks in schools about ways they can address environmental issues such as climate change.

Expanding on his passion, Mr Sheppard put forward an idea to Our MK to help residents reduce their carbon footprint and cut their bills.

He suggested residents use solar panels and what can most simply be described as a caravan battery and converter to turn sunlight into electricity.

With the £5,000, Mr Sheppard plans to promote the idea at various events, including many environmental networks, and has already got local electricians and solar firms on board.

He said: "After nagging from my wife that I am a member of the Green Party but was prone to leaving the light on, I decided to put my ideas to paper.

"I am not going to claim that your electricity bills will drop rapidly, but the point is you have resilience as should power go off your lights stay on.

"I would encourage anybody who has an idea to try and take it further. Our MK is great at providing support and helping you on the road.

"I think it will be possible for us as a city to become more green and self-sufficient and I am a great believer in all of those things."

LEARNING, LOVE AND LAUGHTER

Do you want your child to attend an outstanding Reception setting?

Ofsted September 2014 "Children make excellent progress in the Reception classes and are very well prepared to move in to Year 1.

More-able children achieve highly and exceed the expected good level of development in nearly all areas of learning. The behaviour of the children is extremely good. They learn classroom routines very quickly and follow the rules and the high expectations of the teachers. They are happy in class and show great interest in what they are doing".

At New Chapter Primary School, we aim to enhance and enrich the lives of our children by enabling them to make the most of outstanding learning opportunities within and beyond the curriculum. We pride ourselves in providing a caring and happy atmosphere where each child feels valued. We aim to provide not only the right academic atmosphere, but also an education that fosters the intellectual, social, physical and emotional development of each child, which equips them with the skills for lifelong learning and personal growth. We achieve this by involving pupils in purposeful, relevant and challenging activities and providing them with a wide range of balanced learning experiences and opportunities. In this way we feel our children can learn to make choices, solve problems and become independent learners and responsible people.

Parents wishing to visit New Chapter Primary School and see the children in action are always welcome. To make an appointment to visit speak to Miss Hopkins (Admissions) on 01908 679809.

Woman's thanks for finding 'lost' family

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A 58-YEAR-OLD woman who was adopted as a baby is undertaking a year-long fundraising challenge in support of the charity that helped her trace her birth family.

Catherine O'Rourke was adopted as a baby by a loving family and had an incredibly happy childhood. But a couple of years ago, she took the decision to trace her birth family.

Catherine approached St Francis' Children's Society (SFCS) – an adoption charity based in Woolstone.

Its Building Connections service helps adopted adults and birth relatives to trace their long lost family members.

A spokesman for SFCS said: "Catherine's story is an amazing one.

"SFCS was able to trace her birth mother and discovered that, after Catherine had been adopted, her birth parents went on to marry and have two further children – Catherine's full sister and brother.

Adopted: Catherine O'Rouke has found her birth family

"Catherine has now been happily reunited with her mother and siblings and has met new family members she never knew she had."

In the run up to her 60th birthday next year, Catherine, from Kettering, will be undertaking 60 individual walks, approximately five miles each, to raise funds for SFCS and thank it for its help and support.

Her challenge will begin in Woolstone – on her 59th birthday – tomorrow. It will end in the same location on September 30, 2016, the day before she turns 60. A number of SFCS staff will be joining Catherine for her first walk.

The money Catherine raises will be used by SFCS to offer family tracing services to adopted adults whose financial circumstances might prevent them from using an intermediary service to trace their birth family.

Speaking to MK NEWS about her story, which is reminiscent of ones featured in popular ITV programme Long Lost Family, Catherine said: "I was blessed to be adopted as a baby by the perfect parents. SFCS has recently enabled me to trace my birth family, which has added a great new dimension to my life.

"It has been a difficult and emotional journey and I really relied on the amazing staff at SCFS, who led me through it with advice, counselling and support. So I want to thank them in this way."

Explosive spectacular hits the streets

TO CELEBRATE the Rugby World Cup 2015, the streets of Milton Keynes will become the setting for an explosive and thrilling outdoor spectacular as international companies Les Commandos Percu (from France) and Deabru Beltzak (from the Basque region of Spain) do battle in the Clash of the Drums.

The two tribes will meet in a cataclysmic collision of frenzied drumming, war-like chanting, fireworks, pyrotechnics and dramatic movement.

Setting off from Lloyds Court on Friday at 8pm and Campbell Park on Saturday at 9.30pm, crowds can follow the action as it sweeps through the streets of Milton Keynes towards a fiery finale next to The Point.

From tomorrow the Fanzone in Campbell Park will be open with lots of rugby orientated free activities, as well as all the games shown live on a big screen.

For the latest on all the rugby events, including an interview with Will Young who is performing at the Fanzone on Friday, October 9, visit www.onemk.co.uk

photoshow

A STUNNING and provocative exhibition of First World War photographs will go on display at Westbury Arts Centre in Shenley Wood.

The display, open from Saturday until October 11, is based around little known facts about the other people involved in the conflict from the Scottish Free Hospital nurses on the Russian front to the two cats and dog that were thought to be spies for the German army.

The images used to illustrate different trades and skills such as X-rays, prosthetics and body reconstruction developed during the conflict are all posed by local people and photographed by Legge.

Along with the pictures, various documents and First World War posters help guide you through the work.

The exhibition is open from 10am-4pm, Monday to Friday, and between 10am and 5pm on Saturday and Sunday. Entry is free.

cityorchestra

MILTON Keynes City Orchestra is welcoming back soloist Jamie Walton for its latest concert.

Jamie made his epic debut with the orchestra playing Saint-Saens Cello Concerto No 1 last season.

A year on, the orchestra will perform Shostakovich's Cello Concerto No. 1 in its opening concert of the season at Milton Keynes Theatre.

The evening's programme is full of powerful and familiar music – Khachaturian's ballet Spartacus (as heard in The Onedin Line), the Symphonic Dances from Leonard Bernstein's West Side story and Ravel's haunting Bolero.

This concert sets the tone for a season of music to delight and challenge, with performances from some of the great soloists currently working internationally.

Tickets for the concert on Sunday, October 11 at 7.30pm cost between £12 and £34. Call 01908 684116.

jazzsinger

THE Stables will welcome jazz singer Theo Jackson to the stage on Friday.

While his heart belongs to jazz, Theo's soul lies in music that can cross boundaries and genres.

To celebrate the UK release of his debut album Shoeless and the Girl, Theo is joined by some of the musicians featured on the recording – Huntly Gordon on double bass and Marco Quarantotto on drums.

Join the musicians at The Stables in Wavendon at 8.45pm.

Tickets cost £10 from www.stables.org

comedynight

THE Crown in Stony Stratford will be playing host to comedians John Kearns, Stephen Bailey and Rob Coleman on Friday.

John, right, won the Foster's Edinburgh Comedy award a year after being named best newcomer – the first act to achieve that in two consecutive years.

The show will be opened by Stephen, who you may recognise from Channel 5's Big Brother's Bit on the Side and has recently supported Katherine Ryan on her UK tour.

Hosting the event is Rob, who was a finalist at the National Pun Championships in 2015 and renowned for his sharp gags and audience interaction.

Tickets are available at thecomedycow.co.uk and cost £10 with £1.05 booking fee.

Doors to the gig open at 7.30pm.

acoustictour

BEN Ottewell, a singer-songwriter in British rock band Gomez, will be taking to the stage at The Craufurd Arms tomorrow.

Following the release of his debut solo album Shapes and Shadows in 2011, Ottewell has performed acoustic tours across the UK, US and Australia.

The singer is now returning to the road to perform tracks from his latest solo project, Rattlebag.

Doors open at 7.30pm and tickets cost £12.50.

FANCY exclusive VIP tickets for you and your friends to the biggest fiesta of the year; plus drinks and food included?

We thought so. Revolución de Cuba is the new £1million Latin American rum bar and cantina in the Theatre District.

Providing an authentic range of freshly prepared Cuban-inspired food for a relaxed dining experience, it transforms into a Caribbean fiesta as the sun goes down, unleashing live music, dancing and celebration.

You and nine of your lucky amigos will experience the cool vibe of Cuba and infamous Havana nights as special guests.

Expect samba girls, live music and more rum than you can shake a maraca at as you party the night away in the spirit of Cuban glamour.

To be in with a chance to win the VIP tickets for launch night on October 9, simply answer the following question:

Which spirit is most associated with Cuba?

A) Vodka
B) Rum
C) Ouzo

WOBURN Safari Park ranger Bob Streatfeild tells MK LIFE readers about a new arrival

SUMMER has definitely stepped aside to make way for autumn, even the leaves on the trees are changing into beautiful golds already.

Here at Woburn Safari Park, the fun continues all year round, regardless of the weather.

Animal Encounters welcomed a new addition to the Monkey Business enclosure this week, when squirrel monkey Tye gave birth to a beautiful baby.

Their keeper Laura managed to get a very cute first picture of them together.

This month also sees Asian elephant calf Tarli celebrate her first birthday. She was born on September 24 last year weighing a whopping 120kgs – although now she weighs more than 500kgs.

teaparty

DRINK Me! Eat Me! The Alice in Wonderland-themed afternoon tea at Frosts in Woburn Sands was a delight.

The garden centre has created its very own Mad Hatters Tea Party-themed room with the grinning Cheshire cat, rabbits, pink flamingos and giant playing cards.

At £25 per person, I at first thought this was a bit steep, but when the food arrived and we realised how much effort had gone into hand-decorating each piece it was definitely worth it – like our very own Great British Bake Off selection.

With a selection of ham and egg sandwiches, prawn bruschetta, brie wraps and a savoury scone, the flavours were explosive.

But if, like me, you have a sweet tooth you will be blown away by the scones, blueberry smoothie, brownie soil, chocolate carrots, iced playing cards, cupcakes and mushroom meringue all decorated with specially-made iced labels and even edible string.

The Mad Hatters Afternoon Tea continues until October 18 with times from 2pm. To book call 01908 583511.

New Car Road Test

The definitive view by Car and Driving

This week's new car road test - Volkswagen Golf GTE

To see the video, login to the motors section of our website

Like the look of the Golf GTI but are intrigued by the idea of a plug-in hybrid drive system? Volkswagen has the answer in the pert form of the Golf GTE. Jonathan Crouch reports.

The Volkswagen Golf GTE promises some faintly absurd-looking efficiency measures, emitting 35g/km of CO_2 and managing 188mpg on the NEDC fuel economy tests. Of course, in the real world, this plug-in hybrid probably won't make anywhere near those numbers, but with 204PS on tap, it's got the muscle to back up the sporty styling. Keep your eye on this one.

Background

The seventh-generation Volkswagen Golf hasn't exactly been short of plaudits. Just about every award that could have been bestowed upon it has been and the range is shot through with excellence from the bottom to the very top. Petrol, diesel, manual, twin-clutch automatic, hatch, estate; it's all good. The Golf is one of those very rare cars where you could walk into a dealership negotiate a deal on any car that they have available and drive it away knowing that you haven't been sold the runt of the litter.

To this mix, Volkswagen has added a fascinating plug-in hybrid version, the Golf GTE. If you're the sort of buyer who might have previously been steered towards the economy of a Golf GTD diesel but secretly hankered after the smoothness of the GTI, the GTE could be the perfect solution.

Driving Experience

The GTE is powered by a combination of a 150PS 1.4-litre TSI petrol engine and a 102PS electric motor. Unfortunately, that doesn't mean you get 252PS. When used together, they nevertheless deliver a useful 204PS - and the torque figure of 350NM can't be sniffed at. When both power units are running in parallel, the GTE will accelerate to 62mph in a crisp 7.6 seconds and on to a top speed of 138mph. It can even hit 81mph using electric power alone.

Naturally, the GTE's battery packs put it at a weight disadvantage compared to a GTI. The extra 120kg of lithium-ion batteries and the 80kg of electric motor lift weight to 1,520kg but the additional bulk is mounted very low in the vehicle which means that the GTE will feel planted and well-resolved in a corner. Mind you, this is a front wheel drive car, so deploying all 350Nm of torque when accelerating out of a tight corner is going to induce a little torque steer. The GTE uses a six-speed DSG gearbox with a triple-clutch system specially developed for hybrid vehicles.

Design and Build

A big part of the GTE's appeal is that it doesn't look that different to a GTI. Visually, the Golf GTE combines elements of the look of the e-Golf and the GTI. The front bumper features C-shaped LED daytime running lights, like those on the e-Golf, as well as aerodynamic horizontal fins, like those on the GTI. Where the GTI features red, the GTE has blue accents, including across the radiator grille and into the headlights. The headlights, along with all lights on the GTE, are LED. In the UK, 18-inch 'Serron' alloy wheels are fitted as standard and the car is sold in the five-door body style only.

Inside, as on the outside, the Golf GTE features blue highlights where the GTI has red. This includes stitching on the steering wheel, gear lever gaiter and seats, plus a blue stripe in the tartan pattern on the sports seats. You still get the flat-bottomed steering wheel with its circular hub and deep dish with audio, telephone and cruise control buttons mounted on two of its three spokes. There's also a set of drilled pedals and a big alloy foot rest. The vehicle speedometer and tachometer are familiar and the latter is supplemented by a power meter in the central display, which shows the status of the battery, whether or not power is being used and the intensity of any regeneration.

Market and Model

The biggest obstacle the Golf GTE has to overcome is one of customer perception. More specifically, it's that most people hear 'plug-in hybrid' and translate that to mean 'massively overpriced vehicle that will never justify its cost'. The thing is, the GTE prices at around £28,000, which isn't that far off the cost of a GTI. Okay, so it is a little slower off the mark, but when it comes to running costs, there's no contest.

An 8-inch Discover Pro satellite navigation system with DAB radio and Bluetooth is standard, and includes bespoke functions for electric vehicles, including the ability to identify potential destinations on electric range, and electric charging points. The GTE also features an e-manager which allows the driver to preset vehicle charging, as well as interior cooling or heating. These functions can also be operated remotely using the Volkswagen Car-Net app on a smartphone: a three-year subscription is included in the UK.

Cost of Ownership

The published figures for the GTE look faintly unfeasible. Volkswagen claims a combined fuel economy figure of 166mpg and emissions of 39g/km. These really point to the deficiencies of the NEDC economy tests for measuring cars like this, rather than the real world abilities of the GTE. In pure electric mode (activated at the press of a button), the Golf GTE can travel up to 31 miles, depending on conditions, and the electric power can also be saved - for example when driving to a zero-emissions zone. The 8.8 kWh lithium-ion battery can be charged in around three and a half hours from a domestic mains outlet, or two and a half hours from a domestic wallbox.

Residual values ought to be extremely good. Golfs already hold their value very well, and adding super low emissions and monster fuel economy to the mix ought to make the GTE the best of the bunch for clinging onto its retained value. The idea of being able to undertake a 30 mile commute to work and back without having to pay for a penny of petrol is hugely appealing, although one suspects that in typical city traffic, that range will drop quite markedly.

Summary

With a petrol GTI and a diesel GTD in the range, it would appear that Volkswagen has covered its bases reasonably comprehensively when it comes to quick Golfs. Is there adequate breathing space for this plug-in hybrid GTE? Yes. If the pricing can be kept sensible, then the GTE should be able to carve a niche for itself, offering the torquey muscularity of the diesel with the smoothness of the petrol. We'll have to crunch some real world numbers to bring you the definitive gen on actual running costs but the initial signs look extremely promising.

The GTE offers the tantalising prospect of a Golf Mk 7 that's quick and fun to drive with the running costs you'd normally associate with a stunted citycar. If ever you needed evidence of technology as an enabling factor in vehicle development, you couldn't do a lot better than this.

Golf Hybrid GTE Performance with economy.

Das Auto.

Between conventionally-powered Golf GTI's and the electric e-Golf sits the GTE. A plug-in hybrid that combines dynamic Golf performance with economy. Capable of 0 – 62 in 7.6 seconds. It's powered by a choice of the potent TSI, powerful electric motor or both with 5-driving modes.

The GTE's 5-door classic hatchback shape owes much to its Golf heritage, with additional touches such as LED running lights and 18-inch alloys as standard. The car also comes with no shortage of equipment, which includes DAB radio, Bluetooth and 6.5-inch colour touchscreen. As for charging, the GTE can be fully charged in just 3.75 hours on a 3-pin plug or 2.25 hours on a domestic wallbox.

It's already been called '...possibly the most complete Golf ever..'. But to decide that for yourself, you'll need the complete picture. Why not call us today.

Major Upgrades For Entire Kia Cee'd Family

Kia has unveiled a major package of advancements to the entire European-designed, European-engineered and European-made cee'd family. The revisions, which affect the five-door cee'd, three-door pro_cee'd, spacious cee'd Sportswagon and sporty cee'd GT and pro_cee'd GT, introduce new powertrains bringing major improvements in fuel consumption and emissions, modified chassis settings and styling and trim changes. There are also significant additions to electronic driver assistance features and connected car services.

First deliveries of the new cee'd family will be arriving in UK dealerships on October 1st priced from £14,905 (cee'd), £15,250 (pro_cee'd) and £16,750 (Sportswagon). The pro_cee'd GT is priced at £23,105 and the cee'd GT at £23,605.

The cee'd family becomes the first range of models to be available with Kia's advanced new 1.0-litre ecoTurbo petrol engine as well as a new 1.6-litre CRDi diesel and seven-speed double-clutch (7-DCT) automatic gearbox.

The ecoTurboengine were revealed at the 2015 Geneva Motor Show and are eventually destined to be used in a number of models. They are three-cylinder units featuring direct fuel injection and turbocharging. There are two versions, delivering 98 or 118bhp, for the cee'd and pro_cee'd, while the Sportswagon is available with the higher-powered unit.

Both are 998cc engines have been engineered to require 10 to 15 per cent less fuel than the 1.4-litre multi-point injection or 1.6-litre GDi units in other versions of the cee'd family, with similar reductions in emissions. Depending on model, fuel economy is up to 57.6mpg, with CO2 emissions as low as 113g/km.

All three cee'd body styles are also available with a new 1.6-litre CRDi turbodiesel engine. This has increased power – up from 126 to 134bhp – with greater torque of 280Nm in manual versions and 300Nm with the new 7-DCT gearbox. CO2 emissions are down by as much as 10g/km in manual versions and now start at just 94g/km. However, the greatest gains are seen when the CRDi engine is paired with the 7-speed DCT gearbox. Compared with the previous model with a conventional six-speed automatic transmission, emissions tumble by almost 25 per cent, from 145g/km to 109.

The 7-speed DCT gearbox was also developed in-house at Namyang and, with a maximum torque capacity of 300Nm, will be used in a wide range of models within the next few years. It offers buyers the smoothness and comfort of an automatic with the sportiness of a manual when the driver wishes to take control of gear changes.

All three members of the cee'd family continue to offer a 1.4-litre petrol engine reserved exclusively for the special-edition SR7 variants, while the five-door and Sportswagon also offer a 1.4-litre turbodiesel, now with improved torque of 240Nm instead of 220. The direct-injection petrol 1.6-litre GDi remains available in the cee'd and pro_cee'd, while the two GT models are again powered by a 201bhp 1.6-litre T-GDi engine. All engines meet EU6 emissions regulations

For buyers who want the sporty styling and trim of the GT models, but with lower fuel, insurance and taxation costs, there is a new GT-Line trim package which also debuted at Geneva earlier this year. GT-Line is available with all three body styles powered by the higher-powered 1.0-litre T-GDi petrol engine and with the new 1.6-litre CRDi diesel.

The 2016 cee'd family introduces a range of additional driver assistance and connectivity features. Depending on model, the cee'd is now available with a Speed Limit Information Function to reduce the risk of drivers falling foul of the law.

All versions of the cee'd family have modified fully independent suspension to improve comfort and handling. All-independent suspension has inherent advantages for ride and handling compared with the simple beam rear axle used by many cars in this class.

The two GT models have sports-tuned suspension and now feature larger front brake discs, up from 16 inches in diameter to 17 inches, and stylish new 18-inch alloy wheels with 225/40ZR18 Michelin Sport tyres. The larger front brake discs help to shorten the stopping distance from 62mph from 36.4 metres to 35.2 metres.

Every car in the cee'd family comes with the best warranty in the business – seven years or 100,000 miles, including labour, subject to terms and conditions. The warranty is fully transferable to the next owner if the car is sold before the time or mileage limit expires. The cee'd range is made at Kia's European factory at Žilina plant in Slovakia.

Grand prix drama: Felipe Massa of Brazil and Williams drives into the first corner with damage to his car behind Daniel Ricciardo of Australia and Infiniti Red Bull Racing on the Suzuka Circuit at the weekend

It's a double whammy for Red Bull's drivers

RED Bull had a torrid time in Japan at the weekend with a major crash in qualifying for Daniil Kvyat and a puncture for Daniel Ricciardo, resulting in the drivers finishing 15th and 13th respectively.

Kvyat started Sunday's race from the pit lane after escaping unscathed from a horrendous crash into the tyres that required Red Bull engineers to work overtime on Saturday night to produce a car.

The left side wheels were ripped off the car after Kvyat caught the grass on a hairpin bend resulting in a loss of traction and spinning into the tyre wall.

The collision brought back sombre memories of Julian Bianchi who sustained fatal injuries at the Suzuka track last year.

Meanwhile, team mate Ricciardo experienced problems as soon as the lights turned green on Sunday when trying to manoeuvre through a tight gap between Ferrari's Kimi Räikkönnen and Williams' Felipe Massa.

The Red Bull car started in seventh on the grid and in trying to make ground, made contact with Massa's car puncturing Ricciardo's wheels and ultimately ending any chance of a podium place.

Talking to the BBC, Ricciardo said: "I could see the gap was closing and if you lift, you lose. All the good work is undone. I thought the gap was big enough.

"In the end we touched. A shame as both our races were more or less ended by that."

Kvyat did well to make up any ground following his disastrous qualifying but brake and technical issues throughout the race halted any potential progress for the Russian.

Lewis Hamilton won the Grand Prix with Ricciardo finishing in seventh and Kvyat in eighth in the Drivers Championship going into the Russian Grand Prix on October 9.

Golfer takes top junior title

YOUNG Abbey Hill golfer Joe Amer has won the American Golf Junior Championships.

The 15-year-old player scored 40 Stableford points at the championships held at Gainsborough Golf Club in Lincolnshire.

Joe, from Furzton, plays off a handicap of 14 and came through qualifying at Thonock Park Course before claiming the national title.

"I couldn't be happier," said Joe. "This is by far and away my biggest golfing accomplishment to date and it will do my confidence the world of good going forward to know that I can compete on a national scale against kids of my age."

Abbey Hill head professional Steve Brown said: "We're all extremely proud of Joe and what he has achieved.

"To battle through qualifying just to get to the grand final and to then go on and win the whole thing is a phenomenal accomplishment.

"Under the guidance of Tom Blick here at Abbey Hill, Joe's game has gone from strength to strength and he certainly has a bright future ahead of him."

MK DONS

DONS' midfielder Carl Baker talks to MK NEWS about the mood in the dressing room

THERE is obviously a lot of experienced lads in the dressing room and I'm sure at some point in their careers they will have been through some results like this but the lads are still upbeat even though we haven't been getting the three points.

Last season we were getting the rub of the green and getting the points where as this season we make one mistake and get punished for it, but we can't be hard on ourselves.

If we were playing poor and losing games it would be a lot different, but we are not doing that and we have just got to keep believing.

You get what you deserve and what you put into this league.

Over the course of the season hopefully things will change.

It is still very early doors and we don't want to be looking at the table too much.

The lads in the dressing room are saying there is no point looking at the league we just need to keep doing what we are doing and it will turn.

There are certain games that we believe that we have to get results out of and we believe that some teams are there to get points out of.

So far this month we have played Middlesbrough, Reading and Burnley away and then Leeds and Derby at home – they are tough fixtures against teams that will be challenging for promotion.

Surely it can't be like that every week.

Bristol is a massive one for us this week and we have got to knuckle down and get the points and then hopefully we can get a winning mentality again.

Last season when we were winning week-in-week-out, you just go into games with a winning mentality and we need to get that back.

Double blow for Red Bull

Big decisions by referees 'cost us points'

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

MK Dons are set to travel to Bristol City on Saturday in a game that was a League One fixture last season – this year it is bottom versus second bottom in the Championship.

But the Dons boss believes his side would be higher placed in the league rankings if referee decisions in games against Derby County and Leeds United had gone in their favour.

Karl Robinson said: "If the referees did their jobs we wouldn't be where we are.

"These components need to be rectified. If we take our performances out of the equation and referees gave correct decisions in the last three games, we automatically add a minimum of three points to our tally and that puts us very high up in the table.

"In certain games they have cost us, we can't say 100 per cent we would have gone on and won those games, I'm just working off the fact that if referees did their job we would get a minimum of a point [per game]. When you look back over the last four or five games big, big decisions have gone against us and they need to start going for you, just like the performances, and we need to take the chances we are creating."

Meanwhile, MK Dons full back Lee Hodson has been called into the Northern Ireland squad ahead of Euro 2016 qualifiers against Greece and Finland.

Costly: We need decisions to go our way, says Karl Robinson

Causing problems: Jordan Cownie in action against Telford Tigers

Flashy Lightning in double victory

MK Lightning recorded their first four point weekend this season securing victories over Hull Pirates and Telford Tigers.

Saturday night saw Lightning score the winning goal just 23 seconds before the final buzzer against the current league champions Telford, while Sunday saw the Milton Keynes side dominate bottom-of-the table Hull.

Bobby Chamberlain gave Lightning a 4-3 victory on Saturday after a late goal from Tigers threatened to put the game into overtime.

At times, Pete Russell's side produced some of their best hockey of the season, although it wasn't until the second period that his side got their first points on the board.

Lewis Hook registered the first goal after hitting the roof of the net against the sprawling Tigers' netminder Thomas Murdy on 33 minutes.

Hook, Jordan Cownie and Blaz Emersic were causing Telford plenty of problems but the second goal came from forward Rene Jarolin soon after.

Lightning went a man down when Lewis Christie was called for hooking, Telford made the extra man count scoring a goal but Adam Carr restored the two goal lead after directing a fierce shot by Jarolin.

Joe Miller and Phil Mill scored late to keep the game interesting before Chamberlain secured the Lightning win.

On the Sunday, Lightning were just one second away from a clean sheet when a last gasp goal from Pirates saw Lightning finish 3-1 victors.

Marko Luomala gave Lightning the lead after half an hour shortly before man-of-the match Leigh Jamieson added the side's second goal.

Just after 46 minutes Lightning's Jarolin turned provider as James Griffin wrapped up the Lightning's scoring.

The two victories over the weekend have left Lightning in fifth place in the English Premier Ice Hockey League ahead of their fixture tonight against Swindon Wildcats.
